Counseling & Psychological Services

Counseling & Psychological Services (CAPS), a department in the Division of Student Affairs, provides counseling services and programs to help students resolve psychological issues and personal concerns that interfere with academic progress, social development, and emotional well-being. Our goal is to help students function to the best of their abilities and make the most of their years at FSU. Because student fees cover these services, there is no out-of-pocket expense for any visit for all currently enrolled FSU Students. CAPS services are provided by licensed psychologists, licensed mental health counselors, licensed clinical social workers and trainees on varying levels. These services include but are not limited to brief individual therapy, group therapy, crisis intervention, consultation, and referrals. Outreach presentations on mental-health topics and life skills are available to students, residence halls, student organizations, faculty, and staff. The CAPS sponsors RENEW (Realizing Everyone's Need for Emotional Wellness), a peer-educator student organization whose mission is the promotion of emotional health and coping skills to FSU students. Students can receive individual instructional sections by RENEW members on various topics including time management, stress management, and test anxiety. Enrolled students may initiate counseling services by walking into the CAPS during regular office hours and requesting to speak with a clinician. When meeting with a clinician at walk-in, the clinician will determine the best plan for meeting the individual student's mental health needs. In addition, students who are experiencing a mental health crisis at a time outside of the CAPS's regular office hours have the option of calling the CAPS's after-hours service at 850-644-TALK and immediately speaking with a clinician. Records of visits to the CAPS as well as after-hours crisis calls are strictly confidential and are not included in the student's University records. Confidential information will not be released to anyone without written permission unless there appears to be clear and imminent danger to the student or others. Students who are aware that they will require longer-term treatment are encouraged to plan for private care in the community before entering the University. However, if necessary, Counseling and Psychological Services staff will make referrals for ongoing treatment in the Tallahassee community. (<https://counseling.fsu.edu>)

Department of Student Support & Transitions

The primary focus of the Department of Student Support and Transitions (DSSST) is to support the academic mission of Florida State University and the Division of Student Affairs by providing services, programs, and resources for all students. Cases are monitored, as needed, to ensure individuals receive the support necessary to improve their life situation. Investigations and Assessment provides investigative services for allegations of misconduct concerning Recognized Student Organizations. New Student & Family Programs (NSFP) facilitates a welcoming and inclusive transition to Florida State University for all new students and their families. NSFP coordinates New Nole Orientation, family programming, and first year initiatives, like SLS 2206: Chart Your Course. The Office of Accessibility Services (OAS) collaborates with and empowers FSU students by creating accessible and inclusive learning environments. Through the provision of academic accommodations, testing support, assistive technologies, accessible transportation services, and a space for students to feel part of the FSU community OAS creates an environment of success. The Victim Advocate Program provides confidential advocacy to primary and secondary victims of all types of crimes. An advocate is on-call twenty-four hours a day to respond to Florida State University students, faculty, and staff who are victimized, and to any person victimized on Florida State University's campus. The services offered include emotional support, court accompaniment, crisis intervention, instructor notification, academic support, referrals, and educational programming for the campus community. Student Conduct & Community Standards

Student Conduct and Community Standards (SCCS) promotes a holistic approach to health, wellness and safety at Florida State. The mission is to promote responsible decision-making that fosters student-centered learning and accountability in alignment with community values and expectations. The staff assist students in upholding community standards as the office addresses allegations involving students who may have violated the Student and/or Student Organization Conduct Codes. The student conduct process is designed to be educational in nature and helps maintain an atmosphere within the University community that is conducive to academic pursuits. Being a member of the University community is a privilege, and the conduct process will determine if a student's conduct warrants modification of or restriction upon that privilege. The Code applies to student and organizational conduct that occurs on University premises, at University-sponsored activities, and off-campus as determined by the Student Conduct Authority. SCCS maintains Student Conduct records and students work with the office to certify their records with future graduate schools and potential employers. The department offers student leadership opportunities through peer involvement with the Student Conduct Board, and through workshop presentations for students who wish to learn more about and apply ethical decision making in their daily lives. The goals of SCCS include community wellbeing; empowering students to value and contribute to an environment which fosters a sense of wellness and belonging; student learning; developing students' ability to critically evaluate choices and personal values and apply their reflections to future decision-making; and accountability: encouraging students to acknowledge their behaviors and recognize when they do not align with their values or with university expectations. Student Engagement

The Department of Student Engagement cultivates tailored student experiences that support students' voice, belonging, and learning. Comprised of three units, Student Organization & Involvement (SOI), Askew Student Life Center (ASLC), and Student Governance and Advocacy (SG&A), our goal is to provide pathways that allow students to connect, belong, evolve, and make an impact on the world. The Office of Student Organizations & Involvement (SOI) believes student involvement outside of the classroom contributes to important learning gains and a well-rounded college experience to prepare students for life after graduation. Students are invited to join over 650 student organizations and get involved in the Florida State University community. The SOI office serves as a catalyst to engage and involve students. The Askew Student Life Center (ASLC) houses the Student Life Cinema and the Cyber Café, where students can watch new releases, independent & foreign films, documentaries, cult classics, and advance screenings. ASLC Gaming offers PCs and consoles as well as board games. Behind the scenes of the ASLC, 6 student-run committees program and promote all events and content. The Student Government Association (SGA) and the Congress of Graduate Students (COGS) serve as the students' voice and provide leadership and accountability to constituents. All students are members of SGA, and hundreds serve in elected and appointed positions. SGA focuses on leadership and identity development, belonging and inclusion, civic engagement and participation, financial responsibility and stewardship, and supporting traditions, initiatives, and communities that benefit the student body. SGA annually allocates approximately $13 million of Activity and Service (A&S) fees to fully or partially fund activities of the student senate, the executive branch, and numerous student organizations and University units. Most events on campus are free to FSU students. The Congress of Graduate Students (COGS) is an elected body of all post-baccalaureate, graduate, professional and doctoral students at the University. COGS is a unified voice and advocate for all graduate related matters. It also offers travel grants to graduate students, funds graduate organizations, and sponsors a variety of programs and services for students. Whether attending WelcomeFSU activities leading into the start of each semester; connecting with peers at Market Wednesday; participating in traditions like Homecoming; giving back to the community through Dance Marathon, Relay for Life, or the Big Event; joining friends at the Student Life Cinema for movies and gaming; or becoming a student leader and participating in SGA, the Department of Student Engagement provides opportunities for every student to connect and find community at FSU. Childcare and Early Learning Development Programs also provide sites for research by faculty members and graduate students in a variety of areas as well as a laboratory setting in which students may observe, complete practicums/internships, or work with young children. The Childcare and Early Learning Center is highly credentialed with full-time professional faculty leading the classrooms. (<https://childcare.fsu.edu>)
