FOREWORD

During recent years many studies have been made concerning the Florida State University. These studies have resulted in routine reports which have been issued periodically by various University offices and special reports prepared by individuals and University agencies. Many of these studies have been made in response to requests: by University officers and agencies, by the Florida State Board of Control, by officers of the state government of Florida, by agencies of the federal government, by organizations such as the American Council on Education and the Research Division of the National Education Association, and by other individuals and agencies. The studies have examined a wide variety of aspects of the Florida State University.

In view of the large number of studies completed and in response to a feeling of need that the essential findings of many of these studies be compiled into a single volume, the Office of Institutional Research and Service has prepared the text for this Fact Book.

Inasmuch as this is only the second effort at a publication of this kind, there may be errors and omission of items which should have been included. Comments and suggestions are invited to the end that subsequent editions of the Fact Book may meet more adequately the needs of the professional staff of the Florida State University.

HISTORY OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY

In 1851 the Legislature of the State of Florida provided for the establishment of two state colleges, one to be located east of the Suwannee River and one west.

As an inducement to place one of these institutions at Tallahassee, the Board of Trustees of the Florida Institute offered the legislature a new building and property for the school, appraised at ten thousand dollars. The legislature accepted this offer in January, 1857. In February of that year the Seminary west of the Suwannee River was opened at Tallahassee. The institution later became the Florida State College and continued in operation until 1905.

In 1905 six state institutions of higher learning, including the Florida State College, were discontinued. In their place, two new institutions were established--a university for men and a college for women. The management of these institutions was vested in a Board of Control. The Board of Control and the State Board of Education met in joint session and decided to locate the college for women in Tallahassee. Florida State College for Women opened in the fall of 1905.

On May 15, 1947, the Governor signed a bill passed by the legislature making the Florida State College for Women coeducational and changing its name to the Florida State University.

FSU today has an enrollment of more than 10,000 resident students and includes the following divisions: College of Arts and Sciences, School of Education, School of Home Economics, the Library School, School of Nursing, School of Music, School of Business, School of Social Welfare, and the Graduate School.

The Graduate School offers work toward masters' and doctors' degrees.

STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION

The State Board of Education consists of the Governor, the Secretary of State, the Attorney General, the State Treasurer, and the State Superintendent of Public Instruction. The Governor is the Chairman of the State Board of Education and the State Superintendent of Public Instruction serves as secretary and executive officer.

HISTORY AND GOVERNMENT (Continued)

The State Board of Education determines policies, adopts rules and regulations, prescribes minimum standards, performs duties and exercises responsibilities assigned to it by law or "as it may find necessary for the improvement of the state system of public education in carrying out the purposes and objectives of the school code." The State Board of Education exercises "such control and supervision over the institutions under the management and control of the State Board of Education as may be deemed proper by said State Board of Education with due regard to the highest interest of education." The State Board of Education supervises the work of the Board of Control as prescribed by law.

BOARD OF CONTROL

The Board of Control consists of seven citizens of the State of Florida. They are appointed by the Governor. Their terms of office are four years each and until their successors are appointed and qualified, except in case of the appointment to fill a vacancy, in which case the vacancy is for the unexpired term. The Governor may remove any members of such Board for cause and shall fill all vacancies that may at any time occur therein. The Board of Control is paid only for actual expenses incurred while in the performance of their duties and in traveling to and from meetings. The Board of Control is at all times under and subject to the control and supervision of the State Board of Education.

The Board of Control has jurisdiction over and complete management and control over the following institutions: the University of Florida, the Florida State University, the University of South Florida, the Florida Atlantic University, the Florida Agricultural and Mechanical University, and the Florida School for the Deaf and Blind.

The Board of Control is invested with full power and authority to make all rules and regulations necessary for the governing of the above mentioned institutions when these rules and regulations are not inconsistent with rules and regulations of the State Board of Education.

The Board of Control appoints all officers, managers, faculty, teachers, servants, and employees and has authority to remove the same as in its judgment and discretion may be best. It sets compensation and provides for payment. It controls the lands, buildings, structures, and property belonging to the institutions over which it has jurisdiction. It supervises all budgets, finances, and expenditures. It has control of all buildings and properties and may purchase and acquire land and property necessary for the operation of the institutions which it controls.

*The Male and Female Departments of the West Florida Seminary each had its own officers and its own faculty until the fall of 1877, when the principalship of the Female Department was discontinued. In 1882 the two departments were united in a system of coeducation with one executive and one faculty. Until 1887 the executive officer was called "The Principal"; since 1887 the title has been "The President."

2. Interpretation of the Table. In 1947 the FSU student who stood at the 90th percentile among his fellow students in the University stood only at the 87th percentile among students distributed on national norms. The 75th percentile FSU student stood at the 68th percentile nationally; the 50th percentile (i.e., median) FSU stood at the 44th percentile nationally; the 25th percentile FSU student stood at the 23rd percentile nationally; and the 10th percentile student stood at the 9th percentile nationally. Similar interpretations may be made for the years following 1947.

*Miscellaneous before the summer 1959 is mostly faculty used in the camp programs. Beginning in 1959 these people are reported in the "Extension" category.

Note: 1. The apparent large decrease in the number of Research positions in 1960, fall, is largely due to the decrease in research in Arts and Sciences (23 positions). The latter school reported many more positions in Teaching in this semester. Research units showed down almost 9 positions.

2. New techniques show "student services" included with Counseling. Also, new techniques show "departmental studies" included with Administration.

NOTE: To determine the number of FTE students:

- a. divide semester hours produced in undergraduate levels by 30.
- b. divide semester hours produced in graduate level by 24.

NOTE: Figures have been rounded where necessary.

*In the fall of 1959 the Department of Audio-Visual Education was transferred from the Library School to the School of Education. This shift explains in part the considerable increase of FTE students in the School of Education and the considerable decrease of FTE students in the Library School.

NOTE: The lease of the IBM 650 computer was terminated September 30, 1961 and an IBM 709 computer was installed, with approximately 20 times the computing rate of the old machine. Thus, although the time the computer was in operation in 1961-1962 was less than in 1960-1961 the total amount of computation was far greater in 1961-1962 than in 1960-1961.
